

As published in Veterans Enterprise
Winter 2000

"The VetJobs.com History"

--> By name/VETERANS ENTERPRISE -->

VetJobs.com was established from three years of internet research on job and resume sites. This research indicated there was a gap in sites which assisted recruiters in identifying not only transitioning military, but also highly qualified veterans who have separated over the decades and are now productive members of the civilian work force in all disciplines.

Studies have shown that at least sixty percent (some say higher) of military personnel who transition to the civilian sector are under-employed for up to four years after separation. This is frequently because: a) the hiring companies do not fully appreciate the capabilities of a person who has served in the military due to incorrect perceptions or: b) the military person was not fully knowledgeable of how to approach the civilian job market. VetJobs.com will change this situation.

Vetjobs.com is not just for senior military officers. It is for ALL personnel who at one time or another served in one of the military branches of the United States.

Vetjobs.com is owned and operated by veterans for veterans. Ted Daywalt (President) and Keith Baker(COO) are both retired senior Naval Officers who have had years of experience in the recruiting industry. They have put together a seasoned management team of professional to assist companies, recruiting firms and hiring authorities to successfully reach the military veteran market.

The VetJobs.com Vision

At the very time American business is faced with the most severe labor shortage in U.S. history, the new wave of on-line resume technology has not found a way to reach the best source of reliable workers - military veterans. That was until now.

The founders of VetJobs.com have a vision for meeting the shortage of qualified candidates in the civilian sector with highly trained veterans who can offer employers solutions and expertise. Through this site, they are providing the tools necessary to make job searching easier for veterans and translating the military experience to civilian equivalents easier for employers.

The founders of VetJobs.com are veterans themselves who have made successful transitions from the military. This site will quickly become the bench mark against which all job sites will be measured.

VetJobs.com vision is the education of both the military veteran and the hiring authority to the value the military veteran brings to the work place.

The VetJobs.com vision includes the goal of providing as many job opportunities as possible for veterans and transitioning military personnel. Thus, the cost for VetJobs.com is kept low with a flat fee.

VetJobs.com is committed to serving the needs of veterans and the VetJobs.com corporate members with the best customer service available. This means including educational services and resources for both veterans and employers.

What We Offer

Most job boards focus on the high tech employee. Yet companies have critical hiring needs in areas other than just high tech. With practical experience in state of the art technology systems, veterans can meet the needs for high tech employees. however, veterans also have proven experience in executive, middle management and entry level positions. Veterans have had the most advanced technical and leadership training available today. Skill sets in which veterans have had extensive training include accounting, medicine, engineering, finance, construction, information technology, logistics, human resources and a host of other industries and occupational skill sets needed by today's employers. Veterans are highly trained team players who are loyal and dedicated.

While many companies realize the value of employees with prior military experience there are still those who continue to work from misperceived stereotypes and consequently miss hiring highly qualified veteran candidates.

VetJobs is sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

© 2006 by VetJobs, Inc. All Rights Reserved Worldwide