"VetJobs.com Named To List"

Marietta-based VetJobs.com has been named one of the Internet's Top 500 job sites according to CareerXroads' sixth annual Directory of Job, Resume and Career Management Sites on the Web.

VetJobs.com is owned and operated by U.S. military veterans with Midwest offices in Waterloo, Iowa, and is the largest resume database and job posting Internet firm for United States military veterans, their spouses and dependents.

"We are absolutely thrilled to be named one of the Top 500 job boards after just 15 months of operation," VetJobs CEO Theodore L. Daywalt said. "Our success is based on the fact that corporations across America are discovering that veterans make the best employees."

CareerXroads looked through 4,000 job and resume Web sites, and judged them based on ease of access, value of content, navigation, marketing strategy and technology.

CareerXroads (www.careerxroads.com) is a career planning and job placement directory put together by Gerry Crispin and Mark Mehler of Princeton, NJ.

VetJobs is sponsored and partly-owned by the 1.9 million-member Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) and supports more than 200,000 active duty military personnel making the transition out of the armed forces each year. There are no charges to veterans for using the site.

VetJobs is sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.
